

You know, if it wasn't so tragic, it would be funny!!

Here we have the 'left' talking about getting rid of assault weapons, while at the same time, the Hollywood/Hellywood 'left' makes billions of dollars producing movies that portray these types of weapons being used to get revenge on criminals and other enemies like Rambo, Commando, and others.

Need I mention all the video games that they produce where the goal is to wipe out the bad guys with all those super assault weapons???

They plant the seeds, and water them, make billions of dollars, then, when the fruit that they planted appears, they want to get rid of it!! But, they want to keep the money!!

That's the 'left' folks!!!

Whenever a person or group builds their foundation on a lie, then, whatever they hope to accomplish, will never materialize, or be sustained, because TRUTH, will make sure of it!!

Consequently, the condition of the black community in this nation, is proof of this very fact.

For decades, they have listened to so-called leaders, many of whom are preachers, that have consistently pronounced that they, their followers, should support certain candidates in order to attain the goal of equality with the white community.

So, they follow that advice and things get worse.

This is because these preachers don't have a clue as to what they are doing. The reason being, they are living a lie, the lie of being men of God. [Matt. 7:24-27]

In this political climate we live in today, I want you to think about this, IF, you call yourself a Christian!!

A Christian is supposed to be a worshipper and follower of Jesus Christ.

That means among other things, that you are supposed to support and adhere to ALL of what God says you are supposed to be doing.

One of those things is, you are supposed to 'depart, separate, and otherwise reject any and all appearance of evil!!!' [2Tim:2:19]

So then, how is it that you go out and readily support candidates that promote the very things you are directed by Jesus Christ, to reject???

The statement usually comes up that the other party is guilty of wrongdoing as well.

My response to that is, if both parties are engaged in wrongdoing, then you have to choose the party that is engaged in, or accused of the lesser instances of wrongdoing.

You can't say, as a lot of Christians wrongly do, that sin, is sin. Therefore it makes no difference as to what the party is guilt of .

In this life, God takes a harsher view on things like abortion, gay marriage, affirmative action, separation of church and state, than He does on lying, or somehow discriminating against someone, and the punishments are issued according to the severity of the sin.

Just read the books of the Law!! Punishment ranges from separation from the camp, to death. If as a lot of preachers and Christians believe about sin is sin, that means a person stealing something could be put to death, just like a murderer!!

That is not the case, thankfully!!!

How does the Democratic party rate

Jesus Christ – If He were to come back here today, and do and say the same things He did back then, the Democratic party, their supporters, and most black preachers would call for Him to be crucified again.

He would be labeled as waging a war on women because of His stance on babies in the womb. He would be labeled a homophobe for His stance on the LGBTQ community. He would be labeled a racist/white supremacist, because of His rebuke of the black community and its actions towards whites.

Essentially, anything that He opposes, Democrats support. Anything He says we should be doing, Democrats reject!!

JFK/RFK – I am specifically addressing JFK, but his brother RFK, held the same views as he did, when it comes to how to grow the economy, and get people away from the welfare mindset.

It was supporters of this party, that assassinated JFK, and his brother because both struck at the core of the foundation of this party.

JFK, was highly regarded by the black community, and was setting the stage for giving them more opportunities to get off of dependence on government to take care of them. He proposed lowering taxes on businesses, which would allow those businesses to invest more money in growing the business, and hiring more workers, thus getting people off of the government dole.

He had just started implementing the programs when he was assassinated, and his VP, LBJ, came in, scrapped the program, and expanded welfare, and raised taxes on businesses.

And the Democrats still call themselves the party of JFK!!

MLK – Rev. Dr Martin Luther King Jr., was another another highly respected person in the black community who waged a peaceful, non-violent warfare against the racist policies of the Democratic party. One of his most famous quotes, was the one that said, 'men should be judged, not by the color of their skin, but, by the content of their character.

This didn't sit well with the Democrats, especially when blacks started making in-roads in to educational institutions, and jobs. So, they had him assassinated.

Over the years, some of the black preachers that marched with him, abandoned what he espoused, for payoffs from the party, to direct the black community to cast blame on the GOP.

Now, programs like affirmative action, are largely centered on skin color, and not character.

Malcom X – Malcom was another member of the black community, that was highly respected by us.

He directly challenged the Democratic party, for its racist policies and under-handed tricks to keep blacks in their place. He essentially 'called them out!!'

He made, what could be called, veiled threats of blacks tearing down their racist ideals. So, he was assassinated.

What all of these and Abraham Lincoln have in common is that they all were highly popular with the black community, or espoused policies that would elevate us to equality with whites, and all of them were killed, or rejected, so that the Democrats could keep us under their feet, and dependent on them.
